Details of special programmes for slow learners and student participation details and outcome records

For the slow performers:

1. They undergo one on one counselling with their concerned tutorial staff (the whole class of 150 students were divided into 6-7 tutorial groups) to identify their learning problem
2. The tutorial teacher will find out whether the student
 - a. Lacks initiative (due to personal/social issues)
 - b. has problems with accommodating to new environment (college, hostel, friends)
 - c. has language problems
 - c. has difficulty in communication
 - d. was not able to follow the lecture class
 - e. finds the subject too volatile & uninteresting
 - f. cannot understand the facts and concepts
 - g. does not know to give weightage to important points but memorizes everything
 - h. does not know to present test paper properly in an organized way (though able to understand well)
 - h. not able to complete the test on time etc.
3. For the students who lack initiative/ having adjustment problems personal counselling was given by the tutorial staff and necessary steps taken either by communicating with his/her parents, friends or the warden. If required, psychologist's opinion is also sought.
4. All the students were instructed to meet the concerned tutorial teacher after the class hours in the evening at least twice a week.
5. For the students who have language/ communication problems, the tutorial teacher suggests measures to improve their language especially for students who are from medium other than English. For eg, right way of using dictionaries, telling the meaning of specific medical terms in the suggested text books by reading the paragraph aloud with explanation. For the slow learners who were residing in the hostel, a group of students from the same or senior batch (who are good in language, communication skills and interested in
