Tuticorin Flood Relief Activities 2023

In the wake of the recent devastating floods in Tuticorin, Velammal Medical College Hospital & Research Institute (VMCHRI) stepped forward yet again, demonstrating its unwavering commitment to serving the community during times of crisis. From December 24th to 27th, 2023, VMCHRI organised a much-needed medical relief in the form of mobile camps, providing vital medical care and essential supplies to those affected by the disaster.

The floods in Tuticorin wreaked havoc, displacing families and jeopardising their health and well-being. Recognising the urgency of the situation, VMCHRI assembled a dedicated team of medical professionals, comprising faculty, postgraduate, CRRIs and paramedical staff. Led by Dr. Balakumaran (Senior Resident, Department of Community Medicine), the team arrived in Tuticorin with a resolute spirit, determined to alleviate the suffering of the flood-affected population.

For four days, our VMCHRI camp tirelessly served the people of Tuticorin, ensuring easy access for those in need. Floodwaters often isolate the most vulnerable. Recognizing this, we didn't limit our reach. We deployed mobile medical units to navigate tough-to-reach locations and extended our services to the most flood-affected regions like Korampallam, Eral, Kayalpattinam, Srivaikundam, Alwarthirunagari, and Campellabath. Our dedication extended even beyond the district borders, with a special camp set up near Thirunelveli Junction to cater to the flood-affected population there. Just like in our previous relief endeavours, we efficiently utilized available resources to create functional medical facilities at each location, ensuring no community was left behind.

The medical team at the camp served over 1500 patients spread across all camp locations. They provided comprehensive medical care, attending to a variety of ailments and injuries caused by the floods. The breakdown of beneficiaries reveals the impact of the camp: 603 males, 619 females, and a significant number of children (281) received medical attention.

The Tuticorin Flood Relief Camp exemplifies VMCHRI's unwavering commitment to social responsibility. It is a testament to the institute's dedication to serving the community, especially during times of crisis. This camp echoes the legacy established during the Gaja cyclone, where VMCHRI played a pivotal role in providing relief to the affected districts.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY MEDICINE COMMUNITY HEALTH CAMP

Organizer: Department of Community Medicine in collaboration with NSS (National Service Scheme)

Objective: To conduct a free medical camp

Place: Mayalpuram, Madurai

Date: 29/04/24

Faculty: Dr Sriandaal, Assistant Professor

Dr Asifa, First Year post graduate student

On 29/04/24, Department of Community Medicine organized a free medical camp and health awareness program in Mayalpuram, Alenganallur, Madurai. The program was carried out under the guidance of Dr. Sriandaal, Assistant Professor, Department of Community Medicine along with interns. Placard, charts and banners were prepared about leprosy, social stigma, treatment and prevention to create awareness in view of Leprosy screening campaign and was utilized to provide health education & awareness.

The program started with a brief introduction to the gathering about leprosy in detail, about the transmission, presenting features, signs to look for, available screening and treatment options by the post graduate students. They insisted that the disease leprosy is a completely curable disease.

Followed by a free medical camp was conducted for the general population residing in that locality. All medical conditions and minor ailments were treated. All the patient's vitals were checked initially and were guided to the concerned specialty for consultation. Essential medications were provided free of cost by the pharmacy staff. Total of 54 beneficiaries and 4 referrals to Velammal Medical College Hospital.
