

RHEO 'en' KARDIA - Quiz

The Government Thiruvannamalai Medical College under the aegis of The Association of Physiologists of Tamil Nadu organised the 2024 edition of the Annual APT UG Quiz on the 16th of April 2024. This year the quiz was based on Cardiovascular Physiology.

6 students were selected from the first year MBBS students by a MCQ based test covering concepts, clinical and applied aspects of CVS physiology. These students were given frequent training by the faculty of our department. Two students from senior batches, Mr. Karthick Vasusenthil and Ms. Meena, were roped in to train and guide these students for this state level quiz. Dr. R. Durai Arasan, Assistant Professor, Department of Physiology, accompanied the students to this event.

On the day of the quiz the 6 participants from our college divided themselves into two groups of 3 students and attended the PRELIMINARY ROUND of the Quiz programme. This round was attended by all more than 20 teams from various medical colleges all over Tamil Nadu. The preliminary round had 50 questions, which were to be marks in OMR sheets. Unfortunately our students were not able to qualify for the next round.

The students had a wonderful experience in building them up in preparation for the quiz.
