

International Geriatric Day Observation

Department of Physiology has observed the "International Geriatric Day" on the theme "Geriatric health" on 1.10.21.

The program started with welcome address by Dr.S.Anu, Professor and Head, Department of Physiology. A Mime show was performed by the students on Geriatric care. Dr.Mohanty, Vice Principal & Head, Department of Biochemistry, highlighted the biochemical aspects of Aging. This was followed by a lecture on the Physician's perspective on Geriatric illness by Dr.A.Sangeetha, Associate professor, Department of General medicine. Ms.Jeya, Nutritionist briefed about the importance of geriatric nutrition.

To create awareness among the first MBBS students on aging and age related care, English and Tamil essay writing competitions were conducted on the topic "Geriatric care". Dr.Sumanna, Professor and Head, Department of Anatomy judged the competition and prizes were distributed. The program concluded with Vote of thanks by Dr.Rekha, Associate Professor, Department of Physiology.

